Please Contact Canyon REO at:

Since 1991, Canyon REO has worked with private Grand Canyon boaters to provide the support and supplies for an unforgettable wilderness trip. While many experienced boaters have the skills to raft through the Grand Canyon, few have the necessary equipment or desire to plan the logistics of a 16-30 day river trip. Planning a Grand Canyon trip is a massive undertaking and often takes place over one to two years. Canyon REO has developed and refined a program to provide equipment, food, shuttles, and logistical support to these boaters. We make the long process of planning a private Grand Canyon river trip smooth and easy.

Warehouse staff work with the equipment and vehicles at Canyon REO. They prepare and load equipment before a trip and unload, clean, and maintain the equipment after a trip. They also prepare vehicles for shuttles. People who enjoy physical, outdoor work with a team of people should apply for this position. Applicants who do not currently possess skills in welding, vehicle maintenance, and trailer driving will have the opportunity to train in these areas.
